

ARCHER'S PUNISHMENT.

He Stole $132,000 from the State of Maryland

AND GETS FIVE YEARS IN PRISON.

A Light Penalty for a Serious Crime—Terrible Battle With a Murderer in Baltimore County, N. Y.—Horrible Murder of a Maine Man—Terrible Double Tragedy at Knoxville, Tenn.—Other Deeds of a Criminal Nature.

BALTIMORE, July 7.—Ex-State Treasurer Stevenson Archer Monday morning came into the criminal court in this city, pleaded guilty to the indictment charging him with embezzling state funds, and was sentenced by Judge Stewart to five years in the penitentiary. The sudden and unexpected ending of this celebrated case caused considerable commotion in court circles. The trial of the case was not Tuesday, but Mr. Archer decided not to stand trial but to plead guilty. Mr. Archer's counsel read a long statement which was signed by Archer, in which he begged the mercy of the court. He offers no excuse or palliation of his conduct and realizes the enormity of his crime. No blame for any part of the heavy attacks to any one but himself. Mr. Archer, after the sentence, immediately left the court room and was driven to the penitentiary. Archer's defalcation was $132,000.

CURIOUS KIND OF MADNESS.

Sane Enough to Want to Live but Mad Enough to Be Murdered.

DELEH, N. Y., July 7.—In the hamlet of Barboursville, Delaware county, July 4, Adelbert Cumming, who is undoubtedly insane, inflicted wounds upon Sylvanus Palmerton which resulted in his death in less than twenty-four hours. When the neighbors tried to arrest Cumming he attacked them with a knife. Three or four times he made the crowd flee before him. The farmers armed themselves with shot-guns and Cumming was shot in the leg and wounded in the head.

He continued to "climb down." He continued to slash right and left, but finally, the farmers pointing their shot-guns at his head and telling him they would kill him if he did not surrender, he threw down his knife. He was brought to jail here. Sunday night Sheriff McArthur was giving him food he would at all probability have been strangled by the madman had it not been for the assistance rendered by the prisoners, who had been let out of their cells into the corridors. Cumming is about 40 years of age.

BRUTALLY MURDERED.

A Horrible Crime Committed in Madawaska County.

BANGOR, Me., July 7.—News has just reached here of a murder which was committed at St. Leonard, in Madawaska county, about five miles from the large town of Grand Falls. A man named John Desrosiers, about 35 years old, was found dead on the road near his own home at an early hour in the morning. His head was crushed almost to a pulp, the murderer having struck his victim with a large, sharp stone on the cheek. The cheek bone was crushed in and the eye protruded. The murderer ran, with a large flat stone, which weighed about fifty pounds, crushed in the back part of the man's head. So far no arrests have been made, but suspicion points to a person with whom the deceased had had some words. An inquest was held before Coroner Akerly, and a verdict of willful murder was rendered against some person unknown to the jury.

A Woman Counterfeiter.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 7.—In the federal court an indictment was returned against Mrs. Gertrude Russell, of Lawrence county, Ohio, for counterfeiting. The case is a noteworthy one. For months a large number of counterfeit $20 gold pieces had been put in circulation in Huntington. The counterfeiters were finally traced to Mrs. Russell, who is young, handsome and a member of one of the best families of Ohio. She was arrested and the evidence against her is said to be overwhelming. The makers of the coins are still unknown.

Disfigured for Life With Vitriol.

NEW YORK, July 7.—Ernest Miller, an inoffensive looking young man, was badly burned about the face and neck and disfigured for life early Sunday morning by a vitriol thrower. Young Miller is employed as a clerk, with a number of stores. He quit work about midnight, and while passing a house on Rivington street an unknown man threw the liquid over him without cause. Miller's left ear, part of his left cheek and part of the neck and scalp are badly burned.

Resisted the Militiamen System.

BOSTON, July 7.—The convicts in the state prison at Charleston made a riotous demonstration Sunday when the Bertillon system of prison records, recently adopted by the state authorities, went into use. When the details of the system were read to the prisoners they set up the cry "attack," which signifies resistance. The men were locked up in their cells, but before they could be taken to the prison to place 100 of them in solitary confinement.

Killed by a Mexican Woman.

SILVER CITY, N. M., July 7.—Edward Fountain, son of Albert J. Fountain, a lawyer and politician of Las Cruces, was shot and killed. Miss Alton by a Mexican woman who keeps a boarding house. Young Fountain, who was 22 years of age, had some words with the woman when she shot him. The woman, whose name is Candelaria, says that she did not intend to kill Fountain, but shot to scare him. She is under arrest.

Murder and Suicide.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., July 7.—Will Kent shot his mistress, Lizzie Hatcher, and then himself. Both were dead when found, shot through the breast. Kent leaves a widow and three little children penniless. He was a member of the fire department of this city, 30 years old, and of good family. A whisky was the cause of his ruin.

Was a Friend of Frontenac.

LOUISVILLE, July 7.—Mrs. S. E. Buchanan, who was a friend of George D. Prentice and is said to have a number of unpublished poems of his composition, died at her home in Louisville Sunday night. She was the wife of an English army officer and is said to be related closely to some of the great English families.

THE FEELING IN THE SOUTH.

It Is Hot Over the Election Law—A Boycott Threatened.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 7.—A prominent wholesale merchant of Charleston, S. C., who does not wish to be named, is in the city, and talked freely Sunday on southern sentiment regarding the federal election bill. He says the people of the north have no idea of the intense feeling that exists among all classes in the south over the proposed measure. There is no disposition to talk about it or make threats, but the passage of the bill will be the signal for the creation of the extreme bitterness, a feeling that will undo all that the years of peace have accomplished, and that will find manifestation in action.

A Dramatic Scheme Proposed.

First of all every northern product as far as possible will be boycotted. Merchants will import from Europe, and the people will be eager to buy, even at advanced prices, and northern merchants and manufacturers shall suffer. Following this will come the most extensive and effective boycott on class labor the world has ever known. Arrangements are already under way to arrange abroad thousands of white laborers, and every negro employed in the entire south will be discharged. A southern man will, under any pretext, give one of them employment, the object being to drive them into the north and west.

Will Require an Army.

The man declares his people are determined on this course. They are quite sure the bill will fail, and they are preparing for it. Nearly all southern authorities declare the bill unconstitutional, and say that instead of $5,000 extra government officers to carry out the law, it will require $50,000 to properly execute it, unless it be a farce in the north, and this is what nearly all southerners believe it is intended to be.

SERIOUS PRACTICAL JOKE.

A Farmer Nearly Killed by a Shock Given in Fun.

ABERDEEN, S. D., July 7.—Lot Dennison, a farmer living fourteen miles from Westport, lies in a critical condition at the Howland house as the result of an electric shock turned on at the Sherman house, this city, as he was about to drink a cup of water from the hotel cooler. For over a year past a battery strong enough to give a severe electric shock has been attached to the water cooler at this hotel, and has afforded the proprietor, clerks and traveling men infinite amusement. Dennison stepped upon the zinc and lifted the chain cap to his lips.

It Knocked Him Over.

The next moment he fell, overcome by the shock, and was restored to consciousness with difficulty. During the night he suffered from several severe stinging spells, a difficulty of the heart and delirious markings on his recovery for a time doubtful. Great indignation is expressed, as the occurrence is but one of a series of jokes of this character perpetrated upon the old and weak. Dennison declares that in the event of his recovery he will prosecute the proprietor, and that the city authorities will order the batteries removed at once.

A Heroine in Dire Want.

BOSTON, Mass., July 7.—A representative of The Boston Herald in Maine reports that the venerable mother of the daring and gallant Lieut. William B. Cushing, who, in May '61, with a crew of thirteen men, went up a river to Plymouth, N. C., and blew up the rebel ram Albemarle, is now an object of charity, and has called upon a Masonic lodge in the city of Belfast for assistance. She owes for her board since November last. Her name is now Susan P. C. Garrison, and she is with relatives at Castine, Me. All her eleven children are dead. During the war she served five years as nurse. She was wounded twice while caring for injured soldiers on the field.

Emma Had Her Fling.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 7.—Emma Page, a woman who came here about a year ago from Chicago and lived for a time with Rev. Charles Hudson Smith, has created a sensation among the hotel-keepers within the last few days. She first appeared at the Palace, where she engaged five rooms, and within two days had her rooms flooded with dresses, cloaks, jewelry and knickknacks, all marked "collect." They had been sent to her by confiding dealers, when they found she was at the Palace hotel. The proprietors' bounced her, and she made a complaint of the other hotels. She is a good-looking woman and of good address.

Will Get Points From the Regulars.

CAMP DOUGLAS, Wis., July 7.—Six companies of the Third infantry, U. S. A., from Fort Snelling, Minn., under command of Col. Edwin C. Mason, are in camp here with the Third regiment of Wisconsin national guards, commanded by Col. Moore of La Crosse. The regulars will remain till Aug. 1, and will afford opportunities for the militiamen to gain instruction in camp routine as well as reconnaissance, picket duty, construction of earthworks, patrol duty and other field movements.

Nihilists Convicted.

PARIS, July 7.—The trial of the nihilists resulted in the conviction of Reinsteint, Nabachidze, Katchintzeff, Leventul, Levoff and Orlovski, each of whom was sentenced to three years' imprisonment and to pay a fine of 30 francs. Anna, the wife of Reinsteint, and a female physician named Fromberg were acquitted. When sentence was pronounced Orlovski declared that he would be happier in a French prison than in the mines of Siberia.

Will Farm on a Great Scale.

ATCHISON, Kan., July 7.—The firm of Howell Bros., of this city, composed of S. R. Howell, of Chicago, and George W. Howell, of Atchison, have contracted for the seed wheat to plant 7,000 acres in Toombs county, Kansas, in the famous Solomon valley, this fall. They have advertised for 500 teams to break the land. It will cost $20,000 to break in the crop.

He Feared He Would Go Mad.

COLUMBUS, Kan., July 7.—Professor S. F. Barker, late principal of the public schools, committed suicide Saturday by taking morphine. He retired to his room, bathed and dressed himself carefully, and then took the fatal dose. From a diary and scrap book left by him it appears that he was afraid of insanity.

Drowned While Bathing.

ATCHISON, Kan., July 7.—John Meyers, aged 10, of Springfield, Ill., who has been spending the summer at the residence of J. W. Sampson, in this city, was drowned Sunday while bathing in Sugar lake. The body will be sent home for burial.

TARIFF IN THE SENATE.

Its First Knock Out in the Upper House of Congress.

SENATORS REFUSE TO TAKE IT UP.

An Animated Discussion Over the Matter Between Edmunds, Plumb, Frye and Other Prominent Legislators—Consideration of the Shipping Bills Resumed—The Conference on the Silver Bill Finally Reached an Agreement.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 7.—In the senate Monday the conference report on the consular and diplomatic appropriation bill was agreed to. Morrill moved that the tariff bill be considered. He said that after the tariff bill was taken up, it could be laid aside informally until the two shipping bills were disposed of. In reply to an inquiry by Harris the presiding officer stated that the two shipping bills would come up as the unfinished business at 2 o'clock. Harris then suggested to Morrill not to make his motion until after 2 o'clock. Morrill said he preferred to make it at the present time. Frye said he had given notice that he would call up the river and harbor bill, but he was not personally concerned about its consideration at present. He would certainly, however, feel obliged to ask for its consideration before the tariff bill could be considered. He would not now antagonize the tariff bill with the river and harbor bill, if the tariff bill was going to consume two or three weeks, he would not consent to yield that length of time.

What Edmunds Wanted.

Edmunds—We will take the judgment of the senate upon this. I don't think it will not do to ask unanimous consent to take up the river and harbor bill during the pendency of the tariff bill, because, certainly, one member of the senate will object to that.

Frye—I shall not ask unanimous consent.

Edmunds—Then the senator would have to move to lay aside the tariff bill.

Frye—I would do so.

Edmunds—I understand that the shipping bills are in order at 2 o'clock.

The presiding officer said that those bills would come up as "unfinished business" at 2 o'clock. Edmunds—The senator stated that the senator from Vermont desired to take up the tariff bill, and he considered only from 12:30 to 2 o'clock.

Edmunds—That is what he wants to do. The clerk will call the roll.

Gorman repeated his question. Edmunds—The senator stated that Maine for his shipping bill, but I desire to have the tariff bill before the senate as the regular business. I expect, of course, to yield for the regular appropriation bills when they come up.

A Few Words from Carlisle.

Carlisle—I am unable to see, for my part, with my limited acquaintance with the methods of proceeding in this body, that anything is to be gained by taking up the tariff bill at this time; certainly not, if it is to be laid aside from time to time. I have understood that the senator from Maine desired to complete the consideration of the shipping bills, and that, after that, he desired to take up the river and harbor bill. I have also understood that the committee on appropriations, has, or soon will have, ready the sundry civil appropriation bill, and perhaps other bills that ought to be considered and passed upon by the senate. I hope, therefore, that the senator from Vermont will not insist on his motion, or, if he does, that the senate will not sustain it. So that, when the tariff bill is taken up for consideration, we may proceed with it in the regular way, until it is completed.

An Opportunity to Speak.

Morrill—If we are to bring the session to a close at an early period it is necessary we take up the most important bill that is before us. My purpose was merely that the tariff bill shall be in order after the disposition of the two shipping bills; so that senators who may desire to speak on the subject at large will have an opportunity to do so. There is no objection to making amendments as the bill progresses.

Harris—I do not know that anything can be gained by taking up the tariff bill at 12:30 and then having it laid aside with the fall of the gavel at 2 o'clock.

Morrill—We will have gained the reading of the bill.

Edmunds—I object to further debate.

Refused to Take Up the Bill.

The vote was taken on Morrill's motion, and the result was—yeas 16, nays 24—no quorum voting. There was a call of the roll, to which forty-nine senators responded. The vote was again taken, and the senate refused to take up the tariff bill—yeas 20, nays 23, as follows: Yeas—Albright, Allison, Davis, Dixon, Doherty, Edmunds, Farwell, Faulkner, Frye, Hale, Hawley, Hiscok, Manderson, Morrill, Platt, Pugh, Quay, Sawyer, Sherman, Stockbridge—20. Nays—Allen, Bate, Berry, Carlisle, Cockrell, Gibson, Gorman, Hampton, Harris, Jones, of Arkansas, Mason, Payne, Plumb, Ransom, Reagan, Squire, Stewart, Teller, Turpie, Vest, Voorhees, Walthall—23.

Senate bill to establish a United States land court and to provide for the settlement of private land claims in the territories of New Mexico, Wyoming, Arizona and Utah and in the states of Nevada and Colorado, was taken up and discussed until 2 o'clock, when it was laid aside, without action, and the consideration of the two shipping bills, (reported by Frye from the committee on commerce) was resumed.

Agreement on the Silver Bill.

WASHINGTON CITY, July 7.—The conference on the silver bill have reached an agreement, and it is understood that the basis of the purchase of $300,000 ounces of silver monthly.

Did the Collecting Themselves.

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., July 7.—The east-bound Northern Pacific freight train was boarded near here Sunday by two men. When the conductor asked for tickets they drew revolvers and compelled the conductor and brakeman to hand over $120. The robbers then jumped from the train and escaped. A posse went in pursuit when the news reached here and soon captured the robbers.

He Has a Tough Job.

LONDON, July 7.—The magistrate sitting at the Thames police court in London has before him a case requiring him to inspect separately 11,000 pictures, which are alleged to be indecent, with the object of finding out which are not strictly classical.

DIVERSION ON SUNDAY.

A Baltimore Divine Utters Some Very Liberal Doctrines.

BALTIMORE, Md., July 7.—Rev. Charles R. Wild, of the First Independent Christ church, in his sermon Sunday on the observance of Sunday said:

"The recent and wanton attacks upon those who have been witnessing games of ball near our city are so gross and senseless that they reopen this perplexing question and demand some consideration of that which lies at the basis of a real Sunday, which our modern life so much needs. The American game of ball is not in itself immoral or demoralizing. It cannot be successfully played except by temperate men."

Abuse No Solution of the Problem.

"Whether or not it is the most ennobling way of spending Sunday afternoon is an open question. But abuse of the game and of workmen, whom I know are living industrious and clean lives, is no way to solve such the great and delicate questions of the present day. As long as we persist in closing our galleries of painting, museums and libraries we have no right to condemn these men for this diversion, which in itself is perfectly harmless."

Things Are Not as They Were.

"Modern society lives in two many classes whose ways of throwing stones is a law of criticism that you shall not take away until you put something in its place. This is a great and difficult question; it should be approached with calmness and caution. The conditions of modern life have changed from the past, and the street and street of modern life and labor leaves men and women at the end of the week exhausted and weary, with three great needs—worship, rest and recreation."

People Must Be Entertained.

"If we persist in closing, in this present brutal way, our places of wholesome recreation, then ball or lawn or even theatre, or something else will take their place. In this city every library, every museum, every picture gallery should be opened on Sunday afternoon. Sunday can be abused by the church just as well as by playing ball. It is an abuse of Sunday to gather men and women together and tell them that the bulk of humanity is doomed to an endless hell. Far better play ball than listen to these perversions of the truth."

SHE HAD REMARKABLE NERVE.

A New York Mother's Sad Outing With a Dead Baby.

NEW YORK, July 7.—The remarkable nerve of Mrs. Milton Adams, who lives on Lexington avenue, is rarely equaled even in men. With her husband, who is a salesman with Teft, Weller & Co., she went to Coney Island early Friday to spend the day. She carried with her a small child, only a few months old. While in Paul Hauer's hotel in the afternoon she suddenly became aware that her child was unusually quiet. Upon looking at it she discovered that it was dead.

Devotion That Was Sublime.

Fearful that if the fact became known the child would be taken away from her and that if she told her husband he would break down and then it would be discovered that the child was dead, she carried the dead baby in her arms until it was time to go home. When, at 7 o'clock, her husband opened the street door at home, she fell unconscious to the floor, and then he first learned that the child was dead. With her wife regained consciousness she told him the sad story.

The Educators at St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 7.—The national council of education continued its session Monday in the assembly room at the state capitol. H. B. Sprague, who was to have reported on the subject of higher education, was not present, and the report of the committee on elementary education was called for. The chairman of this committee is N. A. Calkins, of New York. On behalf of the committee he reported drawing attention to the primary importance of physical training, then to the subject of vocational education, proceeding to the structure of sentences, arithmetic, natural history, etc. An interesting discussion followed.

Railway Strike at Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 7.—The demand of the yardmen of the Pennsylvania road and the Erie and Nashville for the Chicago scale has been refused, and the strike is now complete. The Pennsylvania line sent out all its passenger trains and perishable freight according to the regular schedule. The attitude of the switchmen on a number of roads whose demands were granted is watched with interest.

Celebrated His 100th Birthday.

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., July 7.—Henry Enick, the oldest resident of southwestern Michigan, has lived to celebrate his 100th birthday, and the event was observed by giving the old gentleman a complimentary dinner at Allison, Davis, Dixon, Doherty, Edmunds, Farwell, Faulkner, Frye, Hale, Hawley, Hiscok, Manderson, Morrill, Platt, Pugh, Quay, Sawyer, Sherman, Stockbridge—20. Nays—Allen, Bate, Berry, Carlisle, Cockrell, Gibson, Gorman, Hampton, Harris, Jones, of Arkansas, Mason, Payne, Plumb, Ransom, Reagan, Squire, Stewart, Teller, Turpie, Vest, Voorhees, Walthall—23.

Drowned While Bathing.

BOSTON, July 7.—At Crescent Beach a man who had registered at the Stratmore hotel as D. S. Campbell, Boston, was drowned while bathing. The body was recovered and the head was found to be bruised, which leads to the opinion that the deceased struck against a rock in diving. In his coat pocket was found a letter addressed to Campbell and addressed to Donald S. Campbell.

London Police Threaten to Strike.

LONDON, July 7.—Several of the constables who refused to go on duty until an officer who had been transferred from one district to another was reinstated, and who were suspended in consequence of such refusal, have been dismissed. This action has caused intense excitement, and the police threaten to inaugurate a strike.

Delivered of a Monstrosity.

TRENTON, N. J., July 7.—A son was born Sunday to Mrs. Charles Wolke with two perfect heads, the left about five inches in diameter, and the right three inches. The child was alive just before birth, but never breathed. There was a bifurcation of the spinal cord in the middle of the back, a branch running to each head. Hundreds went to see it.

A Very Young Married Couple.

MADISON, Wis., July 7.—W. F. Carvill, son of a well-known Odd-Fellow, was secretly married a month ago to Miss Alice Sawyer, daughter of a female Methodist doctor. The groom is 19 years of age, and the bride 17.

CONFLICTING REPORTS

Concerning a Terrible Tornado at Fargo, N. D.

TELEGRAPH WIRES PROSTRATED

And Reliable News Hard to Obtain—Seven People Killed and Nineteen Wounded According to One Report—Many Buildings in the North Dakota City Badly Damaged by the Storm—A Train Blown from the Track.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., July 7.—Advices received at the office of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad company state that Fargo, N. D., was devastated by a tornado about 2 o'clock Monday morning and that many of the best buildings in the city were totally wrecked. Several people are reported killed and many injured. A Northern Pacific passenger train, consisting of twelve cars, was blown from the track, half a mile west of this city, injuring a number of passengers, some of them seriously. The Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul freight house was destroyed and its contents ruined. Telegraph wires were blown down and the city cut off from communication with the outside world for several hours. The elevator at Ferry was blown over on the main track, and the railroad authorities have reason for believing that havoc has been wrought all about the line. A wrecking outfit has left St. Paul for the scene of the wreck on the Northern Pacific near Fargo.

JAMESTOWN, N. D., July 8.—Reports received from Fargo late in the afternoon state that the town has not been seriously damaged, and that no lives have been lost. Several elevators are wrecked and a Northern Pacific train was blown from the track, but nobody was killed on the wrecked train.

St. Paul, Minn., July 8.—A telegram received here by General Superintendent Kimberly of the Northern Pacific from Jamestown, N. D., says the storm struck Fargo about 3 a. m. The roof was blown off the depot at Mapleton and one of the elevators at Dalrymple was moved from its base. The elevator at Edmonson, on the Jamestown & Northern branch was struck by lightning and burned. A passenger train was overturned at Fargo but nobody was hurt.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 8.—The Western Union have just got a wire into Moorhead, across the river from Fargo, but it is loaded down with railroad business. The signal observer there has telegraphed Washington that several lives were lost in the cyclone and that thirteen were injured.

A Detroit, Minn., special to The Journal says: Your correspondent just arrived from Fargo. A terrible tornado struck the town early Monday morning. Seven are killed and nineteen wounded. A Northern Pacific train was blown from the track. Great destruction to buildings. Wheat was untouched.

DISASTER ON THE RAIL.

One Man Killed and Several Others Received Painful Injuries.

KANSAS, Ills., July 7.—An excursion train of fourteen cars from Texas was derailed at Montano, Ills., Monday morning. Doctors have been sent from here to the scene of the accident.

The excursionists were on the road to Milwaukee to attend the Knights of Pythias convalescence. J. H. Crawford, of Vaco, Tex., aged 30 years, was standing on the platform of one of the cars, and was thrown off, striking his head on the ties, which crushed his skull. He died within fifteen minutes.

List of Injured.

The wounded passengers were all in the East St. Louis car. They are: William J. Born, East St. Louis, bill clerk for Ohio and Mississippi railroad; double fracture of right leg. Miss Millie Dooley, East St. Louis, fractured by nervous shock. W. V. Touge, East St. Louis; back injured. Capt. W. H. Sandusky, Central City, Ky., manager of cutting house Newport News and Mississippi Valley railroad; foot and ankle sprained. Charles Lantz, Shelbyville, Ills., shoulder sprained. Every car except the three was derailed, several of them being dragged twenty feet away from the line. The excursionists were transferred to a special train about noon and sent to their destination.

FIRE ON A STEAMBARGE.

A Woman Burned to Death and Decks and Lumber Destroyed.

EAST TAWAS, Mich., July 7.—Late Sunday night the steambarge Sea Gull was discovered on fire. No means were at hand to extinguish the flames. The cook, Maggie Cornetta, was unable to get ashore and was burned to death. The Sea Gull's lines were burned off, and the derrick being hoisted by the fire to the steambarge Calvin, which, however, was saved. Further on the burning vessel set Emory's dock and mills on fire, and these were destroyed, the loss being $30,000. The Lock & Stevens docks and Sibley & Bearinger's docks and lumber were also burned. Sixteen million feet of lumber were consumed. The Sea Gull is a total wreck.

Two People Burned to Death.

KEYE, N. H., July 7.—A special to The Tribune from West Ridge says while W. E. Weatheres was at church on Sunday his house took fire by the overturning of an oil stove. The only occupants at the time were a Mrs. Hues, and Mr. Weatheres's youngest child. The flames ignited the child's dress and it was burned to death. In attempting to save the child Mrs. Hues was so severely burned that she died.

Indiana White-Caps.

LOUISVILLE, July 7.—The White-Cap outrages have broken out afresh in Harrison county, Ind. Sunday night about 11 o'clock a band of nearly thirty visited the county poor house and took Superintendent John H. Donohoe from his bed and gave him twenty-five lashes on his bare body. He was charged with mistreating the inmates. Hickory switches were used and he was very severely handled. His flesh was cut in places, and he was left bruised, bleeding and insensible.

They Poisoned Their Husbands.

VIENNA, July 7.—The trial of ten Hungarian women, charged several years ago with poisoning their husbands, has been concluded. Two of the prisoners were acquitted. Of the others four were sentenced to death, one to servitude for life, and three to fifteen years' imprisonment each.

A Collision.

There was a collision between two buggies on Water street near Central Park Sunday evening, which for a while looked ominous for some of the participants. H. M. Willard and wife were in a buggy and going to their home, 1038 West Decatur street, and their vehicle was run into and damaged to the extent of losing a wheel, by another buggy, in which were three occupants, and the motive power of which was being driven at a very rapid rate. Mrs. Willard was thrown out of the buggy and was considerably bruised but not seriously injured. The parties whose vehicle did the damage did not stop to get an inventory of the damages inflicted and their identity is not known.

Still Gathering Laurels.

The Citizens Street Railway company is still adding laurels to its record as a demolisher of vehicles, the latest one gathered being on West Main street, last evening, when a car ran into a road cart, breaking it into smithereens and severely bruising the occupant, Thomas Lord. Lord's horse became frightened and backed across the track, so eye witnesses state, and the motor-man couldn't stop the car in time to prevent the wreck.

A Strike Ended.

Yesterday the district Messenger Service boys

Yes! Grand Pa, I'm a soldier and your my prisoner here. But I'm not going to hurt you, so you need have no fear. Just sit and take it easy, you are not scared I hope, Only you must surrender, to General SANTA CLAUS SOAP.

MICKER'S THEATER.
Shenandoah!
Bronson Howard's greatest comedy, "Shenandoah," will be produced at Micker's Theater, on Monday evening, June 30th, for a run of several months. The cast of players will be the same that was engaged in the 300 nights' run in New York City.

Special scenery and new appointments are being prepared with a view to make the coming production of "Shenandoah," a notable one in the history of this theater, already noted for artistic singling of every class of plays.

It goes without saying that Bronson Howard is recognized as the greatest American playwright.

"Shenandoah" is known to be the greatest comedy written on a distinctly American topic by an American author whose successes have been marked for years.

The cast is acknowledged to be the best in the country, its many members having been selected from several companies for individual successes in their several roles.

Enough is promised for the excellence of the staging when it is said that it is the intention of Manager Micker to make it a production with the many that have given his theater the name of being the leading house in the country for productions.

The theater is the most comfortable, the best ventilated, the coolest in summer, the safest under all circumstances, and is now in its 30th year as the foremost theater for productions and the best appointed theater in the country.

Given a special production of the best comedy of the leading playwright of the country in the first theater in the nation's favorite city, what more can be desired?

Excursion parties can secure seats now for any night during the ten weeks run and when the party is large a regular discount is made.

Praise From Mr. Hubert.

A more agreeable journey through diversified and attractive scenery than that which can be made by one of the two daily vestibuled last trains of the Burlington & Ohio railroad between Chicago and Washington, Baltimore and New York.

Yonkers would be hard to find. The Baltimore & Ohio Railroad of today is a vastly different institution from that which it was a few years ago. The antiquated locomotives and cars which then constituted its equipment have been replaced by the latest and the best patterns and the through trains, visited from engine to rear sleeper and including dining cars and pullman cars of the most modern and luxurious character, compare favorably with those of any railway in the world.

The elegant simplicity of the interior decorations is in marked contrast to the vulgar ornamentation which, not long ago was considered the height of art in such places. The wood is of mahogany, with little carved or raised work, but brought down to the highest finish, carefully selected for fine grain and texture and showing highly polished surfaces.

Does not tire of admiring the improvement in the locomotive equipment is equally remarkable. In order to climb the Alleghenies, from whose heights the passenger enjoys views of sublimity and beauty which he never forgets, heavy grades and crooked curves were necessary in constructing the road and until recently it required the help of extra engines to get a train to the summit. Now when the foot of the foot of the mountain is reached, instead of two or more engines being called into service, there is attached to the train a single engine weighing 67 tons, having six coupled drivers and cylinders 21x30 inches in size, and this powerful machine takes the heavy train up the long grades, of grades, reaching as high as 18 feet to the mile, at a lively pace. The daylight ride over the mountains, especially in the time of verdure, shows a wonderfully attractive panorama in which grandeur and beauty are combined in nature, and the speed of the journey between Washington and Chicago proves the propriety of calling this road "Picturesque R. & O."—Mailway Age.

Democratic Congressional Convention.

The democratic convention for this district will meet in Lincoln Thursday to nominate Rowell's successor. At the county convention nine delegates were appointed from this county, as follows: L. D. Walker, David Patterson, P. W. Delaney and D. P. Burns, of Decatur; W. P. Davidson, Macon; E. F. Shipley, Macon; H. C. Mowery, Forsyth; J. V. Bigger, Austin; George B. Spiller, Mt. Zion.

By the call which was issued after these delegates had been appointed, Macon county is entitled to 13 delegates. The other four delegates will probably be selected by the central committee.

The candidates whose names have been suggested thus far are, Farmer Simpson West and Owen Scott, of Macon; Judge S. E. Reed, of Platt; and Dr. J. C. Myers, of DeWitt.

Special Correspondence to THE REVIEW.

The Fourth of July was celebrated with due pomp. Speeches and music at the park during the day and fireworks in the evening were the chief attractions.

Ed Williams connected his hand with the buzz saw at R. R. Meredith's planing mill to-day and had it almost ripped off. He is the fourth man crippled by the machine within a few months.

The inquest into the death of Harley Russell was adjourned until Monday. New and important evidence against Dunbar and Hulen has been developed. The preliminary examination is set for next Tuesday.

Stay Away From Kansas.

Clinton Public.

Some seven or eight years ago Asa Wilson sold his farm and stock in DeWitt township, and with over $8,000 in cash he moved to Kansas. When the Wichita boom was at its height he invested his money in town lots, expecting to realize a fortune in a year or two. The boom turned the wrong way and poor Asa lost every dollar. Sick and heartbroken he lost all hope in life and the news came last week to his brothers who live in DeWitt township, that he was on the verge of poverty. His brothers hastened to his relief, but death had marked him for a victim, and yesterday morning the remains of Asa Wilson were brought home in a coffin for burial at his old home.

Mr. Wilson had many warm friends in Macon county who will regret to hear of the unfortunate ending of his life.

He Was Reminded.

A Decatur business man who had the common fault of forgetting to send home things he was reminded of as he started up town, had a letter placed in his hand by his wife the other morning, with a request not to read it until he reached his office. Arriving there he partly opened it and read the following: "I am compelled to tell you something that I know will trouble, but for your benefit and mine, I must do so, as longer delay is impossible. I have known it for a week, but knowing it would trouble you, have delayed." Here the page ended and turning over he read: "Our floor is out. Please send a sack this afternoon, as we must have some for blanching for tea."

Being Repaired.

The damaged portions of the opera house and Calumet club rooms are being repaired, and very soon no trace will remain of the disastrous visit of the unwelcome fire fiend.

The entrance is badly water soaked, but with that exception, no damage was done down stairs.

Examination of Teachers.

Special Correspondence to THE REVIEW.

Levi Towle, of Decatur, was in town Saturday evening.

Ed Dumas expects to get out the first issue of his paper next week.

C. M. Hinds, of Midland City, spent the Fourth with Cerro Gordo friends.

Miss Lulu Elliott, of Decatur, spent several days last week with the Misses Geslar, returning home to-day.

On account of the sickness of Rev. Smith, there were no services at the Presbyterian church Sunday evening.

Harry Green, of Chicago, was in Cerro Gordo a few days last week, visiting with his parents and that of his best girl.

G. A. R. Post, No. 210, of Cerro Gordo, went over to LaPlace Saturday evening, to assist in mustering a post at that place.

Miss Allie McKinney, who moved to Oregon from Cerro Gordo some years ago, died on July 2d, and the funeral was held at the Presbyterian church, at Cerro Gordo, Sunday.

THE CELEBRATION.

The Fourth at Cerro Gordo was very suitably celebrated, and notwithstanding the predictions of the F. M. B. A., who held a picnic in the vicinity, there was a larger crowd present than there was ever known to be here before.

The celebration began early in the morning by the firing of avails, torpedoes and muskets, and then, with scarcely enough time enough between for the spectators to regain their breath, came the calithumpians. Among these distinguished guests were the Illinois Short-horn, Rebekah Jane, who came from the brush north of town and carried off first money as having the best outfit, and a wagon of Kansas emigrants, who happened in town, were good seconds.

The parade was led by a Monmouth band of 12 pieces, which carried a grand band wagon drawn by four horses. This band owing to the carelessness of the musical director in supplying proper music, were compelled to play "When Johnny Gets His Gun," through the entire line of march.

The exercise at the park in the forenoon were comparatively well attended but in the afternoon, when Judge Tipton came to speak, the park was crowded to its utmost capacity. So well did the Judge entertain and amuse his hearers that the usual exercises at such a racing polo climbing, etc., were entirely forgotten, and the attention of the entire audience was riveted to the eloquent line of thought that flowed from the masterly orator. As soon as darkness has taken the place of day, the display of fireworks, which this was the first of the season, were set off, and it seemed as though all the stars of the firmament were holding a shooting match. Excellent music was furnished during the day by the Macon county orchestra, and the celebration was one of almost sublime excellence, and was a credit to Cerro Gordo.

Cerro Gordo, Ill., July 7.

Missionary Day.

Sunday was Missionary Day at the Christian church. The first Sunday in July was set apart as a National Missionary day, and was expected to be entirely devoted to the discussion of Missionary work.

At the morning service Rev. T. W. Pinkerton preached a missionary sermon.

The C. W. B. M. conducted a meeting at the regular hour of evening service. The entire program was devoted to the Mission cause. The service opened with a song by the congregation and prayer by Rev. Pinkerton. Scriptural responses were given in response to roll call.

Mr. E. Scamman acted as leader, and read an address on the relation of the C. W. B. M. to the church. A paper was read upon the origin and work of the society, by Miss Ella Lindsey. A recitation was given by Mrs. J. H. Gregor, a solo was sung by Miss Maud Leflingwell and a duet by Misses Ada Pritchett and Virginia Olor. Mrs. James Pierce read a paper on "Personal Consecration," and Miss Ada Pritchett one on "Mission Band Work." The male quartette, composed of Messrs. Patterson, Picher, Pierce and Pritchett sang "The Harvest Time is Passing By." Miss Maud Leflingwell read the "Society Greeting."

THE REVIEW POSTOFFICE.

Keep Off the Grass.

EDITOR REVIEW.—If Street Commissioner Alexander or his apologist, the Evening Republican man, will come out here on North College street, near Cerro Gordo, he, or both of them, can see an excellent crop of grass and weeds, not only on the streets but on the sidewalks. When rain or dew falls it is impossible for ladies to go along the sidewalks without getting their garments in a wet and bedraggled condition. Ladies cannot wear high water garments and they have got to suffer and be still, I suppose.

A LADY READER.

For the Health Officers.

EDITOR REVIEW.—The attention of the health officers is called by request to the condition of the Illinois Central Union depot closet. The atmosphere thereabouts is enough to bring an epidemic of sickness to the city and something ought to be done to head the invader off.

A SUFFERER.

Hoarding it.

A party of young folks, as mentioned in Sunday's REVIEW, under the chaperonage of Mrs. J. H. Bevans and Miss French, pitched their tents in Malet's pasture, and will enjoy rural life and all the pleasures there are in camping out for a week or more. The following ladies and gentlemen comprise the party: Misses Florence and Annie Rainey, Margaret Roberts, Carrie Griswold, Edith Lytle, Sallie Scruggs, Nell S. Hooper, Beatie Voorhies, Eva Hammer, Grace Sheldar and Mollie Tuttle; Harry Bunstead, Frank Evans, L. W. Hatter, Harry Armstrong, Will Hammer, Kyle Bolton, Will Finch, George Matthews, George Lytle and Allan Bevans.

Deaths of Dings.

On June 27, Effrieda, the 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Young, of 243 West Macon street, died of diphtheria, and yesterday morning the Angel of Death again visited the afflicted family, this time taking Augustus W. The 7-year-old son of the bereaved couple. The immediate cause of his death was paralysis of the stomach. The funeral will take place this morning at 10 a. m. from the family residence, Rev. S. F. Gibb officiating.

It Wouldn't Work.

A tough looking customer with a dilapidated valise in his hand stopped outside the gate in front of a house in one of the suburbs a day or two ago and called to the woman who was sitting on the porch.

"Madam, will you oblige me with the information whether or not you keep a dog?"

"What difference does it make to you, sir?" she responded.

He took a dog-eared note book from the valise and made a memorandum in it.

"I desire to answer," he said, raising his voice he called out again: "Man of the house at home?"

"Never you mind!" retorted the woman. "Run running this house just now. Any thing you want?"

He appeared to be on the point of making another entry in his greasy memorandum book, but thought better of it and put it back in the valise.

"I have asked you these questions, madam," he said, "not necessarily for publication but as a guarantee of good faith. If I understand you correctly you positively refuse to answer."

"You understand me exactly. It won't pan out. The census man has already been along here, sir."

"I inferred as much," rejoined the tough looking customer, with a shade of sadness in his voice. "Under the circumstances it would not be worth while to ask you, I presume, if you have any eligible cold victims to give out?"

"It would not."

"I don't see," said the faded tourist, and he lifted his hat, took a careful survey of the surrounding dwellings and followed his nose a little further down the street to a house that seemed to give forth an odor of fried chicken.—Chicago Tribune.

The Rescue of Emin Pasha.

Owing to a delay in the mails on the Uganda and Mbera Northern railroad the following from Life's African correspondent has just come to hand. It is, however, the first authentic report of the meeting of Emin and Stanley.

Mr. Stanley approached Emin's headquarters about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, softly whistling "Little Annie Rooney." He rapped at the door of Emin's tent, and Emin himself answered the summons.

"How do you do, Emin?" said Stanley.

"I beg your pardon," said Emin. "You have the advantage of me."

"I am Henry M. Stanley."

"I don't care. I don't want any subscription books, and I read 'The Dark Continent' a long time ago."

"But I have come to rescue you."

"I don't want to be rescued."

"Well, you've got to be rescued. Put on your coat and come along."—Life.
